Important Railroad Development in Southeastern Ky.

The Cumberland Northern R. P. is making location of their line between Barbourville and Manchester, 25 miles, and expect to let contract for grading in about 60 days, and hope to have the line completed to Manchester by Jan. 1, 1915.

The line has been surveyed from Barbourville to Beattyville, 75 miles, but will only be built as far as Manchester this year. Connection will be made with the L. & N. R. R. at Barbourville and when completed to Beattyville connection will be made with Lexington & Eastern R. R.

The maximum grade on the line between Barbourville and Manchester is nine-tenths of one percent and the road will be substantially built to handle the heavy coal and lumber tonnage that will be developed.

Manchester is the county seat of Clay county, and is in the center of the richest coal and timber in this section of Kentucky.

Chas. F. Heidrick, of Brooksville, Pa. is President of the Cumberland Northern R. R. and the other Directors and Officers of the company are Frank M. Heidrick and Dr. J. A. Haven, of Brooksville, Pa., R. E. Heidrick and G. M. Richards, Jr. of Clarion, Pa.; Col. C. B. Lyttle, of Manchester, Ky.; John Q. Heidrick, of San Francisco, Cal. and Paul D. Henderson, of Lamine, Cal. The office of the company during construction will be at Barbourville, Ky.

The Orchard Knob Lumber Co., composed of Charleston, W. Va. and Scranton, Pa., interests have upwards of 30,000 acres of selected timber and coal lands in the vicinity of Manchester, they will commence the development of their timber to furnish shipment of upwards of twenty million feet of lumber annually. It is estimated there is at least one billion feet of timber on the Orchard Knob and other lands tributary to the road. The Manchester Mining & Mfg. Co., composed principally of Knoxville, Tenn., people have upwards of 30,000 acres of choice coal lands tributary to the new road. The Clay County Mining Co., of Montpelier, Vt., the Campbell Coal Co., of Atlanta, Ga., and other concerns are also interested in the coal in Clay county.

FOUR DAYS TRIP TO EASTERN KENTUCKY

Trade Extension Committee of the Commercial Club Decides on Annual Jaunt

The Trade Extension Committee of the Louisville Commercial Club has decided upon a trip lasting four days into Eastern Kentucky, beginning at 11 o'clock on the night of May 17 and ending on the night of May 21. Over-night stops will be made at Middlesboro, Bristol and Knoxville. The trip will be made over the L. & N., the Southern and the Virginia Southern railroads, and will cover about 800 miles.

Stops to be made the first day will include London, Corbin, Barbourville, Pineville, Harlan and Middlesboro. Pennington, Appalachia, Norton, Clinchport, Cate City and Bristol will be touched May 19. On May 20 the boosters will visit Johnson City, Greenville, Morristown, Jefferson City and Knoxville. Stops will be made the final day at Coal Creek, LaFollette, Jellico, Williamsburg and Mt. Vernon.

The committee has eliminated many small stops because of the necessity for conforming to railroad schedules. The boosters will also be able to make longer stops at the more important points.

M. E. Church.

The usual hours of worship will be observed by the members of this congregation: Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.
Morning sermon at 11:00 a. m.
Epworth League at 6:30 p. m.
Evening sermon at 7:30 p. m.
All are cordially invited to meet with us and take part in these services.

E. R. Overley, Pastor.

Christian Church.

The usual services will be held at the court house next Sunday. It is especially desired that a large attendance be present both at Sunday school and the preaching service. Next Sunday is official Sunday school day in Kentucky. Let everybody come. The subject of the morning sermon will be "The Tabernacle and Its Significance." The subject for the evening will be "Lessons from the Baptism of Jesus." This will be a spiritual study of this incident in the Master's life.

J. W. Ligon, Minister.

Fellow Citizens of Knox and Whitley:—

I am presenting my claims to you for the Republican nomination for Representative, solely upon the belief that I can be of service to you, and that I am better qualified to fill the position than my opponents. If I thought either of them could better serve you than I, I would give them my support and quit the race. I am not alone in this opinion. Read what some of my friends say. I have letters of endorsement from my opponents home precinct from his home town, Barbourville who asked me not to use their names. I have talked with a number of the best people of the district, who unhesitatingly promise me their support.

When I began teaching in Knox county I told the first trustee that signed my contract that I would try to do my best, and that I believed they would never have cause to regret their action. They didn't, and I was offered the school again, and Mr. Taylor's endorsement from Tedders attended my school that year. I told the trustees at Middlefork the same, they did not regret it. I worked there again and was offered the place further. In my home precinct I was accorded the same consideration, and Mr. Donaldson's endorsement from Gray speaks for itself. He was one of the trustees. I have a number of such endorsements from people in every precinct where I am known. They speak for themselves.

I have naught to say against my opponent, but you have tried him in the Legislature. Don't you think it would be well to try "The right man"? I promise you that if elected I will be on the job. I will be there to answer roll call, and use my utmost endeavor to be a "live wire" in the Assembly and if there be a single vote that I can cast for the betterment of my constituents I will answer "here am I," and you shall receive the benefits. I pledge my utmost support of the Prohibition laws, or new ones that will more efficiently accomplish the aims intended; a revision of the tax law; and a repeal of the dog tax, better schools and "enactment of laws" for the masses and not the classes.

Read the endorsement of the W. C. T. U. Have you read the endorsements referred to above? Watch for them to be printed in this paper later on.

I thank the people for the loyal support and big majority you are going to give me in the August election.

I am most respectfully,
J. J. PRICE,
"The Right Man"

Live As They Did in Pioneer Days

QUAINT TRIO "DIS-COVERED" ON
MISSOURI FARM

Years Have Brought But Little Change to "Aunt Betty" and Her Brothers on Gun Creek.

Aunt Betty Elliot, 86 years old; Jordan Elliot, 82; and Perry Elliot, 80, lived on the same farm, near Macon, Mo., since 1838. They—Never had a quarrel with anybody.

Never went to school.
Never swapped horses.
Don't own a dog of any kind.
Don't use tobacco in any form.
Don't belong to any church, but believe in God.

Never had a lawsuit.
Don't know what they are worth.

Keep their accounts with pins on shingles.
Never talked through a telephone.

Never turned a hungry man from the door.

Macon, Mo., April 21—In the good year 1816, William Elliot, Kentucky emigrant, came to Missouri and patented a section of land on Gun Creek, in the northern part of the State. Hardly anybody knows where Gun Creek is, but nearly everybody in this part of the country now knows of the quaint backwoods home where the children of William Elliot have lived for nearly a century. Elliot had a large family. The three eldest children were Betty, Jordan and Perry, who devolved upon them to manage the household and they were busy in looking after the needs of their brothers and sisters that they never had time to get married. The other children moved away, the parents died, leaving Betty, Jordan and Perry to themselves. They found in each other all the human companionship they needed.

Nestled in the backwoods, from twelve to fifteen miles from any railroad, they hardly knew that the great Civil War was raging about them in the 60's. They occupied the same log cabin that was built by their father in 1838. For many years they lived exactly as the early pioneers did, making their own homespun garments, fetching water from Gun Creek, shooting game with flintlock rifles in one way, however, the Elliots advanced. The two men were thrifty and they knew that some day that rich Missouri soil at out them would be worth a great deal of money. So they began an early life to add to the estate. They picked up a section here and a section there until they acquired a great body of 2,000 acres. Much of this is woodland and very valuable now. Under hundreds of acres are rich coal beds that would bring the rise of 200 an acre for the coal alone.

Up until recent years the Elliots carried on their farming operations in the primitive manner of the pioneers. They would not cut the manes or tails of their horses. Their lands were enclosed by the old zig-zag rail fences. Along in the 70's a frame house was built, but it was allowed to go almost to ruin before it was repaired. Flat rocks were placed upon the roof to keep the shingles from blowing away. The "boys" hung their trousers and vests outside on the porch. In the front of the house was a pile of ships two feet deep or more, the accumulation of years. In 1865 Perry and Jordan brought a wagon load of rocks from the creek for the purpose of digging and walling a well, but other duties called and they never got around to the job; they are today etching the water from Gun Creek just as they did in the days when the Indians were their neighbors.

These three people are probably the most typical representatives of the pioneer days that can be found in all Missouri. And they possess every good quality of the pioneer. They have had no time for "book learning" and the like of that, but they are as kindly and as hospitable as the richest blue blood that runs in patrician veins.

It is a little singular that but little was known about this quaint family of a bygone age until an agent who was sent out to sell them some telephone stock ran across them. Of course the man who tipped the agent off did it as a joke, for the Elliots had no telephone, and didn't know what telephone stock was. But the agent was not at all aggrieved.

When he understood what an interesting family he had been sent out to meet, he laid business aside and spent the entire day as the guest of the old people. He saw the horses and mules which had never been shorn; the smokehouse and barns made of poles and a grindstone worn to the diameter of a saucer; the old mission bell, hung high in a tree, and was used by Bettie to summon the boys from the field when she had their Johnnie cake and bacon ready for them; the young forest trees growing right up to the house; a wonderful colony of turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens, the pride of Aunt Betty; in other words, he saw an absolute reproduction of the sort of farm and household incident to the days of the first settlers. And this was in the twentieth century!

The telephone agent told his story and it wasn't long until people began to look up that wonderful Missouri family. Possibly the greatest event that ever occurred in Aunt Betty's life was summer. She spoke of it in this way:

"I told 'em something would happen if we started out in that thing, and I wanted 'em to fetch the mules along, but they only laughed at me. Well, I got in and it went along all right until we got about ten miles out of the village, when there was a funny noise for a minute or two and we stopped. The man said the engine went dead. When I said he oughtn't've fetched the mules he didn't laugh any more, but said he wished he had. We got towed into town and I got out, and I ain't never going to ride in one of them things again. But I'd like to ride on the steam cars a little ways, you know—just once," and there was a wistful look on the kindly old face.

In speaking about the family, Jordan said:

"Maybe some folks might think our way of living was funny, but I can say this: We never had a fuss with anybody, never cheated in a horse trade; don't keep a dog, never had a lawsuit; don't owe any man a cent."

"I'll study over that steam car trip," said Aunt Betty, "and if I can get Jordan and Perry in the notion, and we can get the work done up and it gets cooler maybe we'll go, but I don't know—we never was people to gab about much."

These people have close relatives here. W. M. Elliot being a brother to John C. Elliot who lived for many years on little Richland Creek. Who died at the age of 89 years the peculiarity of these old people, is about a comparison with those who lived in this county.

THE INSTRUCTIONS given by Judge Sampson to the Grand Jury at the opening of the present term of court makes it clear that the coming primary election to be held on August 7th, 1915, must be conducted in all respects according to law. The court made it known that a special Grand Jury would be empaneled the week following the primary for the sole purpose of investigating any charges of fraud or corruption that might arise out of that primary, and the attention of all candidates were especially called to the fact that such a Grand Jury was to be had. It is the purpose of the court, as stated by Judge Sampson, to have all candidates, both for county and district offices and their workers and friends to appear before this grand jury at the special term and to give information concerning any violations known to them concerning the election. The officers of election at each Predict in each county in the District will be summoned to appear before a grand jury at a special term of court to be had at the county seat of that county. No person, however well qualified otherwise, will be permitted to sit as a member of said grand jury, who has participated in the election by working in the interest of some candidate or by using either money or whiskey to influence voters or by even electioneering about the polls on the day of the Primary. Every effort will be made to get men who are openly and avowedly in favor of the enforcement of law against bribe givers and bribe takers in elections and against persons who take or distribute whiskey for the purpose of influencing voters.
Heavy penalties are provided against each and the purpose of the officers and court is to have the law enforced according to the letter and the spirit.

It was also pointed out that the man who takes employment to go out and electioneer for a candidate has sold out indirectly to that candidate and while he has attempted to hide behind his employment, yet the grand jury will be instructed to investigate and indict all such persons. This does not mean that a man may not go out voluntarily of his own free will or at the solicitation of his friends and electioneer, but the man who has to be paid in order to induce him to go out is only selling his vote and influence and such a bribe taker ought to be indicted along with those who receive the small pittance at the polls on the day of the election before casting his vote.

Another very important matter was touched on when the court declared that the soliciting of candidates to sign notes as surety or to make subscriptions or donations, is only one way of demanding or soliciting reward for support rendered in the election, and is no less unlawful because countenanced in the past. Because a man announces himself as a candidate for public office is no reason why he ought to be held up and required to sign notes as surety for a voter, or made to subscribe to a benefit when he not under ordinary circumstances have done so, except for the threat, actual or implied, which is carefully couched in each request or solicitation, for such signature or donation.

In other words, a candidate is made to believe, and sometimes told quite plainly, that if he does not sign a note or subscribe to a benefit or make a donation that he will be deprived of the support and votes of the solicitor and his friends and will therefore be defeated in the election. The public has been patient and long suffering, and candidates have been imposed on for generations in this manner. The time has come when things of this sort must not be indulged, and the attention of the grand jury will be called especially to this phase of bribery at the special term of the court to be held in August, in each of the counties of the district over which Judge Sampson presides.

If the law is enforced as it has been in the past two elections, a candidate will be able to run a race without surrendering up everything he has and make himself and family paupers for the balance of their lives. A young man who has qualified himself to perform the duties of an office should not be deprived of the opportunity of election simply because he is a poor boy, or has not the means with which to buy up the electorate of his county or district. The trend of the times is towards pure elections. Other states are taking up the same fight. Even here in our own good Commonwealth hundreds of citizens have been indicted and many of them convicted for bribery in elections or for the use of whiskey to influence voters, and the Thirty-Fourth Judicial District of Kentucky is in the fore front and expects to make greater efforts in the future towards a clean and fair election than ever before.

A LIVE TOWN

Every citizen of Barbourville ought to be proud of the town, because of the progressive spirit it displays when emergency arises.
Whenever there is a school or church to build the citizens respond with alacrity. Only a few days ago a proposition was made by capitalists that if the citizens of Knox and Clay counties would procure a right-of-way for railroad and subscribe a bonus of one hundred dollars to be paid on condition that a standard gauge railroad was completed and put into operation between the towns of Barbourville and Manchester within a limited time, that such a railroad would be constructed and placed in operation.

One evening the citizens of Barbourville were called together and a discussion was had and in an hour more than half of the amount asked of Knox county was subscribed by good and solvent men; and at a second meeting other citizens in and the whole amount was secured with ease.

Only one thing is lacking. A few men who own land along the right-of-way have not joined their neighbors in giving space upon which to build the road.

Every progressive and ambitious man in the county welcomes any new enterprise that will new capital and new employment and new money into our community. It helps every active, energetic business man as well as every laborer according to his effort and his enterprise. No citizen will hesitate to grant a right-of-way to any new railroad offering to construct a line thru Knox county, or for that matter, through any part of the mountains of Kentucky. The building of a railroad enhances the value of the land, makes new business possible and widens the prospect of every citizen. Instead of deteriorating or lessening the value of the farm, a railroad through this mountainous country means enhancement, increased value, greater convenience, civilization, progress and everything that goes with these things. A man had as well oppose the spread of education or of the Christian religion as to sit down on his mountain farm and say "I am opposed to the building of new railroads or the building of new industries or providing employment for the idle and unemployed new capital to this District.

Underwood Tariff Doomed

When from influential Democratic quarters comes an indorsement of the Republican demand for a revision of the Underwood Tariff law, it begins to look as if the measure were doomed to be short-lived. The Republican attack upon it is due primarily to the fact that it "plays favorites" among industries and does not treat American workingmen fairly. The Democratic attack upon it lays more emphasis upon its woeful and increasing impotence as a revenue raiser. The current balance in the Federal Treasury is $55,939,704 less than at this time last year, in spite of "war" taxes and in spite of the postponement of payments due in various directions. Moreover, the deficit will continue to grow, for under the law sugars and sugar cane will be admitted free on May 1, 1916, at great loss of revenue. There have been demands from Norman E. Mack and the Cincinnati Enquirer and from divers other Democratic individuals and publications for a general revision of the Underwood act, in the interest primarily of greater revenue, and second-arily for the protection of American industries. It is hardly likely that the Wilson administration will consent to a new Tariff law, but the evident need of it will favor Republican success in 1916.—Pittsburgh Press.

Steel Rails and Free-Trade

How hard Free-Trade has hit the steel industry in the United States is shown in a recent bulletin of statistics of the American Iron and Steel Institute. In the calendar year 1913, three-quarters of it under a Protective Tariff, there was produced in this country a total of 3,502,780 tons of steel rails. In the calendar year 1914, a full Free-Trade year, production fell off to 1,945,095 tons, a decrease of 1,557,685 tons, or 44.47 per cent. In Pennsylvania alone the Free-Trade drop was from 971,820 tons in 1913 to 592, 532 tons in 1914. "Mr. Redfield will doubtless attribute this tremendous slump to poor management and inferior business ability.
But the men who have steel rails for sale will tell you that the United States leads the world in the efficiency of steel rail production, and that the cause of failing business was the diminished demand resulting from the Underwood Free-Trade Tariff."

Trend Is All One Way

The New York Sun, which is not a Republican paper, has a column interview with laborers in Newark, N. J., in which one of the idle men said: "I never voted for a Republican President in my life, but I will in 1916."
And there were no dissenters.
The trend is all one way.—Marion (La.) Register.

Warren vs. Bennettsville

In a lopsided game last week, Warren easily defeated her old rival, Bennettsville in the first ball game of the season. The score standing at the close 7 to 2. Notwithstanding the vast difference in the score, the game was very interesting. The work of short stop Jess Trosper of the visitors was a feature and he used the willow with telling effect. Jim Di on, pitching for Warren was never in much danger and pitched a splendid game when men were on bases.

Warren and Artemus will play next week and should be a good drawing card.

During the campaign of 1912, in public addresses, Woodrow Wilson often said that the Democratic platform was not molasses to catch flies. Now, it could be said that the ideas in that platform caught thousands of people without a job.—Sullivan (Ind.) Union.

That Little Thing

"That," said the well informed young man, "is a garter snake." "That little thing," exclaimed the incredulous maiden, "why isn't it small?" And the whippersnapper whipped through the willows—and the night owl hooted to its mate.

Same Old Story

"Two years of Free-Trade is generally enough to make the public wish they had voted the other way," says the Waterloo (Ill.) Republican. "The present is no exception, and 1916 will show another great landslide."

It didn't require anything like two years this time to convince the public that Free-Trade is the thing they don't want. The present Tariff hadn't been in operation six months before they saw, and saw clearly, that it worked the very same way that every other Free-Trade enactment by the American Congress had worked—to the detriment of the country through the shutting down of American mills and workshops and the consequent dispiriting of American labor and capital in every line of industry and investment in every State in the Union.

Indeed, had they allowed their political animosities to cool and their better judgment to assert itself in 1912, which they didn't, the American people might have foreseen what hardships were headed right in behind the Free-Trade victory of that year. True some years had passed since they had experienced the evil effects of a Free-Trade Tariff, but still not so many that they couldn't recall those dark days and, in their calmer moments, wish that they might never look upon their like again.

The present Free-Trade period may be a little tougher than anybody looked for, but, we undertake to say, nobody is greatly surprised when tough times follow close upon the enactment of a non-Protective Tariff law. Day does not succeed day nor night night most surely.

Next Year and Business

This suggestion is being pressed upon business men: "Organize for next year. You elected McKinley on a business issue in 1896, and you can elect a man in opposition to Wilson if you go about the matter promptly and in the right way. Stand together and the fight's won."

The business interests undoubtedly elected Mr. McKinley. States which had always gone Republican went Republican that year by unprecedented majorities, while several States which never voted for a Republican Presidential candidate improved that opportunity. It was a victory achieved under a shibboleth which appealed directly to business interest, big and little. Washington Star.

Help Barbourville

By Resolving

That you will keep so busy boosting that you won't have time to knock.

That you will vote, talk and work for a bigger, better, brighter town.

That you will help to make this a good town so the town can make good.

That you will increase the value of your property by improving its appearance.

That you will say something good about this town every time you write a letter.

That you will invest your money here where you made it and where you can watch it.

That you will not point out the town's defects to a stranger nor fail to point them out to a neighbor.

That you will keep your premises cleaned up and your buildings repaired as a matter of both pride and profit.

That you will brag about this town so much that you will have to work for this town in order to keep from being a liar.

That you will take half a day right now to pick up the odds and ends around the place and turn them into either use, money or ashes.

That you will contribute as much money as you can afford and as much enthusiasm as anybody, to any movement to develop the town's resources.

That you will make friends with the farmers, if a town man, or with the town folks, if a farmer, and help work together for the good of the community of which this town is the center.

Epworth League Social

The Epworth League of the M. E. Church was entertained at Cobweb Social given by Mrs. F. D. Sampson last Saturday evening.

The affair was unique, and very much enjoyed by all present. Artificial cobwebs of twine were arranged throughout the building and premises. Each guest assisted in unraveling a web, and in doing so met his or her partner.

This is the first social of the League and it was unanimously voted that the organization have at least one social each month.

BUSINESS HINTS

To inspire enthusiasm, you've got to be enthusiastic yourself.

To get others to see a thing, you've got to see it yourself.

To get your customer to believe in your goods, you've got to show him that you believe in them yourself.

Talk that is not the result of study, trial, test and trouble, is air—us, common ordinary, second hand air.

Lots of men think they are enthusiastic when they are only hysterical.

A healthy enthusiasm springs from belief in yourself and your proposition.

Be real brave and sign your full name. You may make a reputation that will lead "Life" to offer you a dollar a word for your efforts. A few of the sentences are worthy of life—or at least a life sentence.

Kentucky Carlsbad Springs

Something That Kentucky Carlsbad Water Will Do That No Other Water Ever Discovered Has Done

We will take the albumin out of your water in three days, and we are curing all cases of diabetes that drink the water. We will give relief to the most severe cases of kidney trouble in one day, and will absolutely cure any case in ten days. Stomach trouble will be relieved in twelve hours, and we will guarantee to cure any case in ten days if it hasn't become cancerous. Bladder trouble of any kind will be cured in ten days. It will cure any old sore by bathing in it for two or three days. We guarantee it to cure any case of catarrh of the head or bowels in ten days. If you drink this water for ten days you will be absolutely free from constipation or any organic trouble, as it positively will restore every internal organ of the body in ten days. If it doesn't the treatment won't cost you anything.

You can get the same results, if it is not convenient for you to come to the Springs, right at your home, as we ship the water with full directions, excepting rheumatic cases; they must come to Springs to get well. Be sure to write for our free booklet.

APRIL

Now comes the archer on the scene And pile with skill his top and string.
Or knocks with unerring aim The nimble marble from the ring.
The street pianos loudly play The worn out tunes of yesterday.

The frost king's pen has lost its power The paint wield jungles on the poles The lightnings flash, the heavens lower And drench the earth with wholesome rains.
Mankind, refreshed, refilled with hope,
"Digs in"—for bait, or base ball dope.

NOTICE

To All Road Overseers:-

You are requested to warn out all the road hand and work out all the County roads in Knox County at once. This the time of the year to put the roads in good shape, and it must be done. I think 4 days should be worked now, then the people can make their crops and finish up in the fall.

Let this be done as soon as possible, and with the road, fill up the mud holes and especially remove the loose rock from the road or beat them up. If this is done at this time of the year the roads will be better and will serve the people better. Take notice.

Your servant,

His Natural Thought.

A South Dakota railroad is noted for its execrable roadbed. A new brakeman was making his first trip over the road at night and was standing in the center of the car, grimly clutching the seats to keep erect. Suddenly the train struck a smooth place in the track and slid along without sound. Seizing his lantern, the brakeman ran for the door. "Jump for your lives!" he shouted. "She is off the track!"

Killing Off the Race.

From the Christian era till the present time, as statisticians and historians tell us, there have been less than two hundred and forty warlike years. Up to the middle of the nineteenth century it was roughly computed that nearly seven billion men had died in battle since the beginning of recorded history, a number equal to almost five times the present estimated population of the globe.—Christian Herald.

CARE OF FERNS AND PALMS

House Plants Need Much Attention, But Their Beauty Makes It Well Worth While.

This is the time when ferns and palms need a little attention. Ferns seldom need repotting, but if the soil has become heavy, close and "sour" it should be removed, new and clean drainage put in the pot and a mixture of fresh loam and silver sand. Cut off the withered leaves, being careful not to injure any new fronds that are coming up.

If the repotting has not been necessary, turn out the top compost and fill up with the mixture of fresh loam and sand.

Palms may be treated in the same way, and the leaves should never be allowed to wither entirely on the stem, or the plant will die. They should be removed before the decay reaches the center stem. If the withered tips are snipped off directly the decay will often be arrested for a considerable time. Palms must never be placed in a draft, nor watered in the ordinary way at the roots. Once a week they should be placed, pot and all, in a pail of tepid water—rain water is best—left to stand for an hour or two, then drained.

The leaves should be sponged carefully on both sides with tepid water and a tiny sponge or wad of cotton.

Ferns, especially the finer kinds, are often watered too lavishly and frequently, with the result that they rot. They should be kept moist, but not wet. Water in which cut flowers have been kept is excellent for them, and they like a little cold tea occasionally. They should be washed with a fine watering hose at least every other day and set out in fine rain on a mild day.

CRULLER THAT IS PERFECT

Proper Mixing of Ingredients and Fat at Right Temperature Will Produce It.

Three eggs beaten without separating, nine tablespoonfuls of sugar, five tablespoonfuls of milk, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cinnamon, two cups of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a pinch of salt and one-half a cupful of nuts.

Mix eggs with sugar, then add butter, milk, cinnamon and salt. Lastly, well sifted flour, to which you have already added the baking powder. Beat until light. Roll out on floured baking board until about one-half an inch thick, cut with circular cutter, cutting another ring in the center. Handle as little as possible.

Have deep fat, smoking hot, drop the crullers into it, first trying a small piece of raw potato in the fat. If this turns golden brown at once, the fat is at the proper temperature. Here lies all of success or failure. The crullers should swell up and turn a beautiful light brown in less than a minute. Remove at once with wire dipper. Roll in powdered sugar and cinnamon.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever: nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PROMINENT MEN NOW USE TANLAC

Mayors, County and Circuit Court Judges Obtain Famous Medicine

Lexington, April 22.—"I have sold Tanlac, since the beginning of its introduction in Lexington, to the mayors of a number of cities, county judges, circuit judges, and to many of the prominent business and professional men in Kentucky," says Wm. E. Stagg, the Lexington druggist. "The demand for the preparation has been phenomenal in all of my twenty years' experience in the drug business I have never seen anything that equals it."

"In addition to the Lexington demand, Tanlac has been shipped from my store to Kansas City, Mo.; Colorado Springs, Col.; Denver, Col.; Memphis, Tenn.; Meridian, Miss.; Bonilla, S. L.; Pittsburg, Pa.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Louisville, Ky.; Tiffin, O.; Columbia, Tenn.; Palm Beach, Fla.; Phoenix, Arizona; Los Angeles, Calif., and many other points throughout the country that are too numerous to mention. You may rest assured that every city in Kentucky has, too, heard of Tanlac."

"I can only account for the great demand for this preparation by the fact that it is a good medicine. That is proven by the numerous statements from those who have tested the medicine in cases of catarrhal affections, of stomach, kidney or liver complaints, and are now convinced of its excellent merits. The public not been slow to appreciate the Tanlac merit."

"Practically $15,000 worth of Tanlac has been sold and distributed through my store within the past seventy days. Such a demand is most certainly unprecedented."

"I take pleasure in commending Mr. Cooper and his very excellent preparation."

Tanlac, the preparation referred to, is now sold in Barbourville only by Herndon Drug Co.—adv

HUSBAND RESCUED

DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Carion, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side."

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good; I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its helping me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Write for Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper. EOE-B

Effect of Great Kidney Remedy Is Soon Realized

I feel it my duty to let you know what Swamp-Root did for me. I was bothered with my back for over twenty years and at times I could hardly get out of bed. I read your advertisement and decided to try Swamp-Root. Used five bottles and I have never been bothered a day since I took the last bottle of it. I am thoroughly convinced that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root cured me and would recommend it to others suffering as I did. My husband was troubled with kidney and bladder troubles and he took your Swamp-Root and it cured him. This was about five years ago. You may publish this letter if you choose.

Very truly yours

Mrs. Mattie Canfield.

LIV-VER-LAX

All the Effectiveness, Not the Effect of Calomel

Liv-Ver-Lax is one of the most important medical discoveries of recent years. For a long time medical experts, realizing the harmful effects of calomel, have been striving to find a liver cleanser that would be just as effective as calomel, and yet be absolutely harmless in its action. Recently this remedy was actually put forth by L. K. Grigsby, in his Liv-Ver-Lax.
Liv-Ver-Lax is a harmless vegetable compound, designed solely for the treatment of liver complaints. The immediate favor it has met with in thousands of homes is proof positive of its real value.

If you feel worn out, tongue coated, and skin sallow, don't delay until it becomes dangerous, nip the trouble in the bud with Liv-Ver-Lax. Insist on the genuine, bearing the signature and likeness of L. K. Grigsby, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. For sale by all druggists. —adv.

Our Shadow.
Everyone of us casts a shadow. There hangs above us a sort of penumbra—a strange, indefinable something which we call the personal influence, which has its effect on every other life on which it falls. It goes with us wherever we go. It is not something we can have when we will, as we lay aside a garment. It is something that always pours out from our life like light from a lamp, the best from a flame, like perfume from a flower.—J. B. Miller
